

ATENEO DE MANILA UNIVERSITY

ATENEO PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS

Application for Promotion - Evaluation for Promotion to Professor Notes and Instructions for the Applicant

You will be evaluated according to the following:

A. Personal Qualities

As a faculty member of the Professional Schools, you are expected to demonstrate your commitment to the university through the values you uphold as well as your actions and bearing. This includes effective communication and interpersonal effectiveness in the various circles of your engagement, your capacity to manage and develop yourself, and fairness and openness in dealing with others.

B. Functional Areas

1. Teaching

As a Jesuit institution, the Ateneo de Manila values the role of a teacher in the formation of students, both inside and outside the classroom. This is reflected in both your teaching competence and personal qualities.

2. Scholarly work and publications

Research is an important component in tertiary education. Publications in professional and scholarly journals are a clear evidence of such scholarship. Alternatively, creative work, textbook production, patents, case studies, and other equivalent works may be considered, as long as the quality meets the accepted standards of the profession. If you wish to reach the ranks of senior faculty, you should further enjoy recognition in the field, preferably national (or international) in scope.

3. University and public service

You should show evidence of potential in University service and/or public service, especially services that contribute to the advancement or prestige of the University. Activities of this sort are frequently time-consuming but should not distract you from the academic achievement of which you are capable. If you wish to reach the ranks of senior faculty, you should show evidences of mentoring and of leadership in the community.

The evaluation process is strictly confidential. The Committee on Faculty Rank and Permanent Appointment will consider the evaluations, documents, and other pertinent information, to see if the following criteria are met:

To warrant recommendation for promotion to the rank of Assistant Professor, the candidate must give evidence of good achievement in two functional areas, evidence of very good achievement in the third. The candidate must also demonstrate self-development, mentorship, and cura personalis.

To warrant recommendation for promotion to the rank of Associate Professor, the candidate must give evidence of very good achievement in two functional areas, evidence of excellent achievement in the third. The candidate must also demonstrate mentorship, cura personalis, and leadership.

To warrant promotion to the rank of Professor, the candidate must give evidence of excellent achievement in two functional areas, evidence of very good achievement in the third. The candidate must also demonstrate *exceptional mentorship, cura personalis, and statesmanship

* Servant leadership, gravitas, use of wisdom in the public sphere, ability to rise above conflict
