MASTER in BASIC EDUCATION TEACHING
(M BET)

This program examines the theory, practice, and current research in pedagogy, curriculum development, psychology of learning, and assessment and evaluation. Students learn to explore educational materials, resources, and media to enhance student learning. Numerous opportunities for further specialization in teaching methodologies in their respective subject areas are provided. For the thesis option, students are prepared to conduct scholarly research that will address relevant issues in their own school setting. The students are given the opportunity to link theory and research with current practice as they engage in fieldwork in a basic education setting.
